

PRECEPT

1 TIMOTHY 6:10

¹⁰ For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil. Some people, eager for money, have wandered from faith and pierced themselves with many griefs.

PROMISE

We often fail to see the exact value of an object, experience, or relationship, or worse, we fail to see the full cost. Greed is insatiable. It is when we make a poor value judgment, do morally corrupt actions, and pay a heavy loss at the expense of ourselves and our loved ones. Making the wrong value judgment is not just costly to you but also to your relationships. Selfish ambition leads to arrogance and self-importance. You can't hide anything from God. Greediness is disobedience causing separation from God's favor, and results in the harm of yourself and others.

God commanded us to be good stewards of what God has granted us. Matthew 25:21 says, "His master replied, 'Well done good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things: I will put you in charge of many things. Come and share your master's happiness.' God entrusted us with our time, treasures, talents, and relationships. When we are good stewards of what God has given us, he will bless us and give us even more things to manage well. Let God honor, protect, and support you and your family in everything you do. Experience God's promotion, protection, and provision. Luke 12:15 tells us, "Watch out! Be on your guard against all kinds of greed; life does not consist in an abundance of possessions." Being a good steward, God will continue to bless us, serve Him and His people effectively, and bring honor to Him. Serve him and others diligently; serve out of love and not obligation. By understanding the value of your relationships, you will know where to put your focus and simplify your life for maximum output. True riches are spiritual blessings, responsibilities, and eternal rewards. To be a good steward is to manage your resources wisely, invest in His kingdom, and live for Him.

PRACTICE

1. Greed. Has there been a time where you failed to see the true value of an object, experience, or relationship?

2. Good Stewardship. Is there anything that's hindering/stopping you from living a life of a good steward? And how can we encourage and pray for you regarding this?

PRAYER

I. Pastors

- Pray that God may grant them strength and wisdom as they lead the flock

II. Disciples

- Thank God for calling us to follow Him as his disciples. Pray for wisdom to walk in His ways.

III. East Life Group
